ELBERTON BLUE

"The Stone Eternal"

All works of taste must bear a price in proportion to the skill, taste, time, expense and risk attending their invention and manufacture.. Those things called dear are, when justly estimated, the cheapest. They are attended with much less profit to the artist than those which everybody calls cheap. Beautiful forms and compositions are not made by chance, nor can they ever, in any material, be made at small expense. A composition for cheapness, and not for excellence in workmanship, is the most frequent and certain cause of the rapid decay and entire destruction of arts and manufactures.—Ruskin.

For polished or hammered work, you will find the ELBERTON BLUE GEORGIA GRANITE, "THE STONE ETERNAL," possess all the necessary qualifications. It typifies dignity, durability and strength. These are the essential factors to consider in the selection of a Monument.

Just opposite we illustrate a photographic sample of the genuine material. Notice how beautifully it lends itself to the different treatment.

The upper section illustrates the polished surface with sunk letters. This is a very attractive style of lettering and the general accepted custom on the polished surface. At the bottom the hammer finish is illustrated. The letters AX represent what we call half round raised on the hammered surface. The letters ED are what we call square raised, face polished, the back ground hammered. The latter style can be used in a panel on a polished faced die. See opposite sheet for lettering scale of price, styles, etc.

Lettering Prices

Owing to the cost attending the cutting of Granite letters, and the fact that the lettering on small work often amounts to more than half the cost of the memorial, all prices are figured in this book without lettering. It would hardly be fair to add to each price an amount sufficient to cover the average inscription. Customers desiring brevity would be paying a part of the cost of lengthy inscription. When quoting your customers, get this definitely fixed in their minds, the amount of lettering they use, will govern the price.

In this Memorial we have continued simple dignity and refinement, its only ornament being two scrolls and an adaption of the Wild Rose in chain effect. When light marble is used, we strongly recommend a fine grit finish.

In using a spray of Poppy on this beautiful memorial, the designer wishes to convey the idea of sleep—"Sleeping 'till the Resurrection Morn."

Probably the most used ornament for memorials is the Lily, symbolic of Resurrection and Purity. We show here an interesting combination of Lily and Scroll. If used without individual grave marker, we suggest that family name be placed just under the scroll in order to insure ample space for inscription.

The ornamentation of this tablet has a touch of originality that gives splendid effect. The corner carving is a form of acanthus leaf and volute in relief. Name and carving on front only.

This is a fine example of a memorial that is dignified and in good taste, and yet comparatively inexpensive. The second base has the form of an Egyptian cavetto prone molding. The perfectly plain die except for the band in which alternating lotus flowers and buds shows a modern conception of anc ient Egyptian ornamentation.
